“A Sign of The Times – Cutting Costs & Making Money!”

By industry association figures, it costs $10,000 to $12,000 per parking space to build a new multi-level parking garage. Even more staggering is the estimated annual cost of $650 per parking space to simply operate the structure, including lighting, cleaning, employees, elevators, signage and gate equipment.

Based on these estimates, there is little doubt the parking industry has a vested interest in employing efficient, cost-effective construction solutions and long-term value relating to life-cycle cost.

In the case of one of the world's fastest-growing airports, a unique flexible sign post system was chosen to minimize maintenance expenses. This same scenario has been played at malls, shopping centers, retail, commercial and industrial facilities nationwide.

The solution that all of these forward thinking companies have in common is... FLEXPOST

Located on Michigan's west coast, Flexpost has grown to be the leader in flexible steel sign posts solutions. We have discovered a way to eliminate the costly repairs and replacement of bent or damaged sign posts. Our steel FlexPosts meet regulations with both six foot and eight foot heights available, unlike some of our competitors.

Flexpost's dealer network is growing too, in 2008 we have extended our dealer network to service international customers. Flexpost dealers enjoy the benefits of our innovative products and the financial rewards that are made available to them. With free leads, international exposure and the opportunity to generate a NEW revenue stream, dealers from around the world are taking notice of the Flexpost advantage!

Whether you want to save money on your parking lot maintenance or make money by offering our innovative products, Flexpost is the answer for you!
