Finally there is a long term solution for signage eyesores, vehicle damage, and never-ending sign replacement. Why gamble with your time, money and company image.

FlexPost Long-Term Benefits

Flexpost has developed a product that will change the sign post industry as we know it. It is a product that will save people valuable time and money. Flexposts are already helping other organizations cut costs while improving the appearance of their property.

Damaged sign posts can cost businesses money on many levels. First of all they are very expensive. In the repair process a new signpost must be purchased and costly man-hours must be spent. In some cases, the pavement or concrete surrounding the sign must be torn out and replaced. As a result, the cost to repair a sign can be very expensive. With Flexpost you will not have to worry about sign replacement and incurring high costs.

Flexposts' design provides for minimal damage to both vehicles and the actual sign post. With Flexpost you will not have to tear out concrete or asphalt in the surrounding area. Flexposts are the most durable sign posts on the market. In fact, they are guaranteed to maintain their original shape.

We believe that we have developed the premier flexible parking lot solution. Please visit www.flexpost.net for a complete overview of our products.
